

Where Do You Stand?

Shortly after the Battle of Tippecanoe, the British continued to anger Americans as they had become close allies. Those who called for war were called “War Hawks”. Those who opposed war with Great Britain can be referred to as a dove or “War Dove”. If you had to take a side in the debate for war against Britain, who would you choose?

Directions: Create a poster or drawing that will influence an audience to support your side. You may include a sentence or slogan in addition to your image.

On the back of your drawing, write a brief summary about why you have chosen to support the War Hawks or the Doves.
